

Likert Chart for Data.Table Governance Model

- Q1: The new governance model has made the data.table decision-making process more transparent
- Q2: Based on the new governance model, I feel that it is easy to understand how decisions are made in data.table project
- Q3: The new governance model clearly communicate data.table's goals and vision
- Q4: The governance model encourages contributors to participate actively in data.table activities
- Q5: The new governance model makes me feel more valued as a contributor
- Q6: The new governance model clearly defines the existing roles within data.table
- Q7: The new governance model makes me understand my responsibilities better now than before
- Q8: The collaboration within the community has improved after the new governance model
- Q9: The governance model implementation improved fair decision-making
- Q10: Conflicts within the community are now handled more effectively
- Q11: I feel that my opinions are considered in important project decisions
- Q12: The governance model has improved the overall community behavior
- Q13: The code of conduct is helped to incentivize fairness
- Q14: The project is now a more inclusive and respectful environment
- Q15: The governance model has increased my engagement with the project
- Q16: The community seems more active since the governance model was introduced
- Q17: I am satisfied with the project's governance model